From the desk of David Mayl, AFC Director of Education.

In September we held a three day basic education workshop led by AFC's own FFI certified fly casting instructor, Marian Tallon.

The fly tying series of classes is winding down. Seven of the 8 classes have been completed and there is one more class November 10th. Brian Mazoyer is leading the classes.

Coming up on November 20th AFC will be having a fly casting get together at Road Runner Park.

The class is open to everyone that would like learn how to cast or to work on their fly casting skills. There will be club rods & reels if you do not have one or you would like to try different rods. Experienced fly casters will be on hand to work with you. The class will start at 9 AM on Saturday November 20th.

Dito Ladd will lead an Intermediate fly casting workshop on three consecutive Saturdays. December 4th, 11th and 18th. The workshop is for AFC Flycasters that have advanced beyond the basics and can cast consistently into a hula hoop at 30 feet and occasionally at 40 feet. It is helpful to attend all three classes, but not mandatory. Please RSVP to me at education@azflycasters.org or 480 236 6757 if you would like to attend or need more information.

Thursday December 9th Erick Teas will demonstrate how to tie bass flies. Erick will be tying at least two flies and then we will have an opportunity to tie them. The class will be held at the Italian Club at 7 PM. All are welcome and we will be discussing how to fish the flies.

To start the new year we will have a knot tying class. We will demonstrate and focus on 4 knots. Probably the double surgeons knot, the Davy knot, non-slip loop knot, and my favorite knot the Uni-knot also called the Duncan loop. The class will be Thursday January 13th at 7PM at the Italian American Club in the game room behind the bar
